

NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING SEES MINGLING OF PRESS AND PULPIT

Honolulu's new Y. M. C. A. building gathered together last night the first of what will be a long series of notable meetings, when the directors and trustees of the association banqueted representatives of the press and pulpit in the spacious dining room. It was really the opening of the new building, and the first introduction that at least half of those present had to the splendid structure itself to house this vigorous power for good in the community.

The banquet was served on a long table which stretched through the dining hall and partly into the extension of the lobby. Some forty guests were gathered around the table. The gathering was complete except for the regrettable absence of General Secretary Paul Super. Combined overwork and an attack of dengue fever had put the secretary at home in his bed until tomorrow, and he is unable to participate in much of the opening exercises.

President R. H. Trent of the association presided, introducing the speakers with apt remarks. Attorney General Lindsay was first introduced, speaking for the association. He dwelt on the united efforts of pulpit and press that aided in making the building fund entirely successful. His address was brief and to the point. "The spirit of hearty cooperation shown in raising the fund, will, I feel sure, continue to exist throughout the history of the institution, and press and pulpit will continue to encourage and stimulate us," he said.

"Honolulu United." R. O. Matheson, editor of the Advertiser, speaking "For the Press," took as his theme "Honolulu United," applying the slogan not only to the work of the Y. M. C. A. but to all efforts for civic decency. He said in part:

"If the men who spend their working hours between Benetania and the waterfront between Punchbowl and Nuuanu, would unite for Honolulu to say that Honolulu shall be made a sanitary city, it would be done; if they would unite to say that hereafter in these islands shall be taught the true meaning of American citizenship and the responsibility that is included in the right of manhood suffrage, the system that has sprung up here of spoils politics would be wiped out—if the ones of downtown Honolulu would assume their share of the white man's burden, in other words.

"If the men within five minutes' walk of this hall would unite to carry into works the faith they profess in Honolulu, this would become more than the commercial Crossroads of the Pacific; it would become a radiating center for ideals of civic decency, good government, model of colonization for all the world to study, a place where the morality that follows physical cleanliness would be demonstrated."

The Rev. Robert Elmer Smith of the Methodist church, speaking "For the Pulpit," made the hit of the evening. In a happy vein of humor he referred to the trials and tribulations of newspapermen and ministers, told a lot of good stories and then, putting aside the humor, spoke frankly and directly on the mission of the pulpit and the press, what they can do in Honolulu, and then particularly of what the Y. M. C. A. stands for and can do.

"I realize," he said, "that Methodism is not the conservatory of religious truth. I realize the Methodist church has its weaknesses, as other churches have theirs. But we all realize that all are coming closer and closer together and nearer and nearer that great foundation truth that aid men God-ward."

"We may not have an ideal board of supervisors or police department," he said, "and if it were not for the press watching every department of the government and pointing out their weaknesses, we would find that we were farther removed from the ideal state of things than we are at the present. Therefore, I think we owe a debt of obligation to them for criticizing at the right time and usually the right way on the weaknesses of those in power. I also have a whole-some respect for them because they can always have the last say."

Rev. Mr. Smith then spoke of the assistance given the pulpit by the association. He believed in the meetings for men only and the work directed entirely for men. The pulpit believed in the Y. M. C. A. because of the spirit of unity which it has been instrumental in spreading all over the world. "As a church we have weaknesses," he said. "There are some things in our church which I wish were different. There are some things in other churches which I wish were different, but the one great idea toward which all are leaning is to lift humanity God-ward. The Y. M. C. A. stands for intelligence and physical betterment. The church today stands with the association for all its ideals. We rejoice tonight that we have joined hands with the press and with the Y. M. C. A. Let the men of the press and pulpit and the Y. M. C. A. unite in constant endeavor to make Honolulu the most progressive and greatest city on God's earth."

PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRATS

quire a vast amount of correspondence and a great deal of assistance from interested leaders. Democrats of prominence will have to show up well before the governing body of the national federation, namely, Senators Owen, Chamberlain and Myers, before being given license to take up and push the work of the federation.

The federation will stand for the referendum and recall, but will not endorse Senator Owen's pet hobby of the recall for Federal judges.

See Democratic President.

The progressive Democratic Senators behind the movement are confident the Democrats will elect the next President. They say the Republican party is overrun with the rats of special interest, and when the Republican bark goes down they are going to see that the rats do not seek shelter in the Democratic ship.

The Federation of Democratic Precinct Clubs is not committed to the presidential candidacy of Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey. The federation will be neutral. Speaker Champ Clark, Governor Harmon of Ohio, Governor Marshall of Indiana, ex-Governor Folk of Missouri, as well as Governor Wilson, all Democratic presidential possibilities, are endorers of the movement and will be given an equal chance in the race for the nomination.

Those Democrats prominently connected with the movement are Senators Owen, Chamberlain, Myers, Newlands, Clark of Arkansas, Gore, Lee, Martine, Pomeroy, Shively and Reed.

Cascarets Insure Inside Cleanliness

The millions of Cascaret users never have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.
